

SweGaN's Quality and Environmental Policy - 2024

1. Our organization and procedures must operate in accordance with the requirements of ISO 9001:2015 and ISO 14001:2015.
2. Everyone in the organization, from management to employees, must be involved and apply our management system for quality and environment in their daily work. The primary responsibility for quality and environment lies with the person who carries out the individual work. The managers are responsible for ensuring awareness and fulfilment of the quality and environmental management system in their respective organization.
3. Everyone in the organization must meet the set requirements. Everyone in the organization must also work for continuous improvements of the management system's function and effects.
4. We will allocate resources to establish, develop and maintain effective management systems for quality and environment.
5. We will improve our quality and environmental performance over time by continuously improving our management systems.
6. We must comply with applicable environmental legislation and comply with the binding requirements of the authorities and other parties. We will protect the environment by sustainable use of resources and responsible handling of waste.
